

2019 CROP WALKS IN PICTURES

Alberta Pulse Growers sponsored and participated in many educational events across the province this summer. The unpredictable weather didn't keep people away and the events went ahead rain or shine. On these pages are an example of some of the research and extension topics that were shared with producers and industry representatives who attended these crop walks, field days and other agronomy events. Watch APG's website or sign up for the APG app to find out about next year's summer events!

Agronomist Rob Dunn discusses soil health at the Medicine Hat Farming Smarter Field Day.

APG Advisor Cory Nelson and Brad Hopkins working on lentil staging in the latter's excellent lentil crop in southern Alberta.

Purple pea flowers are associated with maple and forage pea varieties. Pea flowers have a variety of colours.

Checking out lentil pods and seed development.

A lady beetle larva is hunting unsuspecting crop pests on faba bean! A true Field Hero at work.

Peas growing near Wetaskiwin.

Gordon Tuck, Josie Van Lent and Harold Haugen at the Zone 5 Crop Walk on Tuck's farm near Vegreville.

APG Executive Director Leanne Fischbuch at the Keep It Clean booth at CanolaPALOOZA, discussing the importance of following the label, correct staging and the responsibility of using crop protection products.

Peas were thriving at the Alberta Agriculture and Forestry plots visited for the Lacombe Field Day, which included the APG-funded germplasm screening project.

Future farmer Rosie Rosaasen out with her dad scouting and collecting lentil samples.

There was a good turnout for the Field Crop Development Centre Field Day in Lacombe.